Team Building and Conference Breakout Activities

The Western Australian Museum can be your conference centre, with team building and breakout activities included, or it can be a secondary space for an offsite event or gala dinner.

For a unique addition to your event, talk to the Museum Venue Hire team about arranging other activities, such as:

- special after-hours viewings of the Museum;
- special guided tours of the galleries;
- a tour of the Oberon class submarine — HMAS Ovens;
- inviting a curator to provide insights into the collections through a tour or presentation;
- a private viewing of our latest travelling exhibitions;
- recommending a team building or breakout activity provider.
- organising a tour of our Collection and Research Centre

HUMAN RHYTHMS
DRUMMING / TEAM BUILDING

The Western Australian Museum has partnered with Human Rhythms to offer a truly unique product that, due to its non-verbal nature, is relevant to all cultures and all ages.

Within a few minutes your team becomes an orchestra without one word being spoken! An extraordinary level of energy is achieved as delegates become active performers, rather than watching passively as someone else performs for them.

Since its formation in 2001, Human Rhythms have been using music and rhythm to inspire and motivate teams of people. Over 100,000 people around the world have experienced Human Rhythms at a conference, seminar, workshop or product launch.

Catering for groups of 10 or more, Human Rhythms is sure to motivate and inspire your team to achieve.

AUSTRALIA II GALLERY

Immerse your delegates into a maritime atmosphere as they wander beneath Australia II, the America's Cup winning yacht. With views of Fremantle Harbour and the Indian Ocean as a backdrop, combined with distinctive displays and artefacts, the Australia II Gallery sets the theme for a truly extraordinary corporate event.

Suited for sundowners and cocktail events, this space can hold up to 150 delegates in cocktail style or 60 banquet.

'The over all experience was excellent. From the help and information provided and the quality of the food provided. Highly recommend the efforts of all the staff at the Museum and the catering company. The catering company bent over backwards to try and ensure that my every request was met before, during and after the event.'
